

Fund your future in hepatology

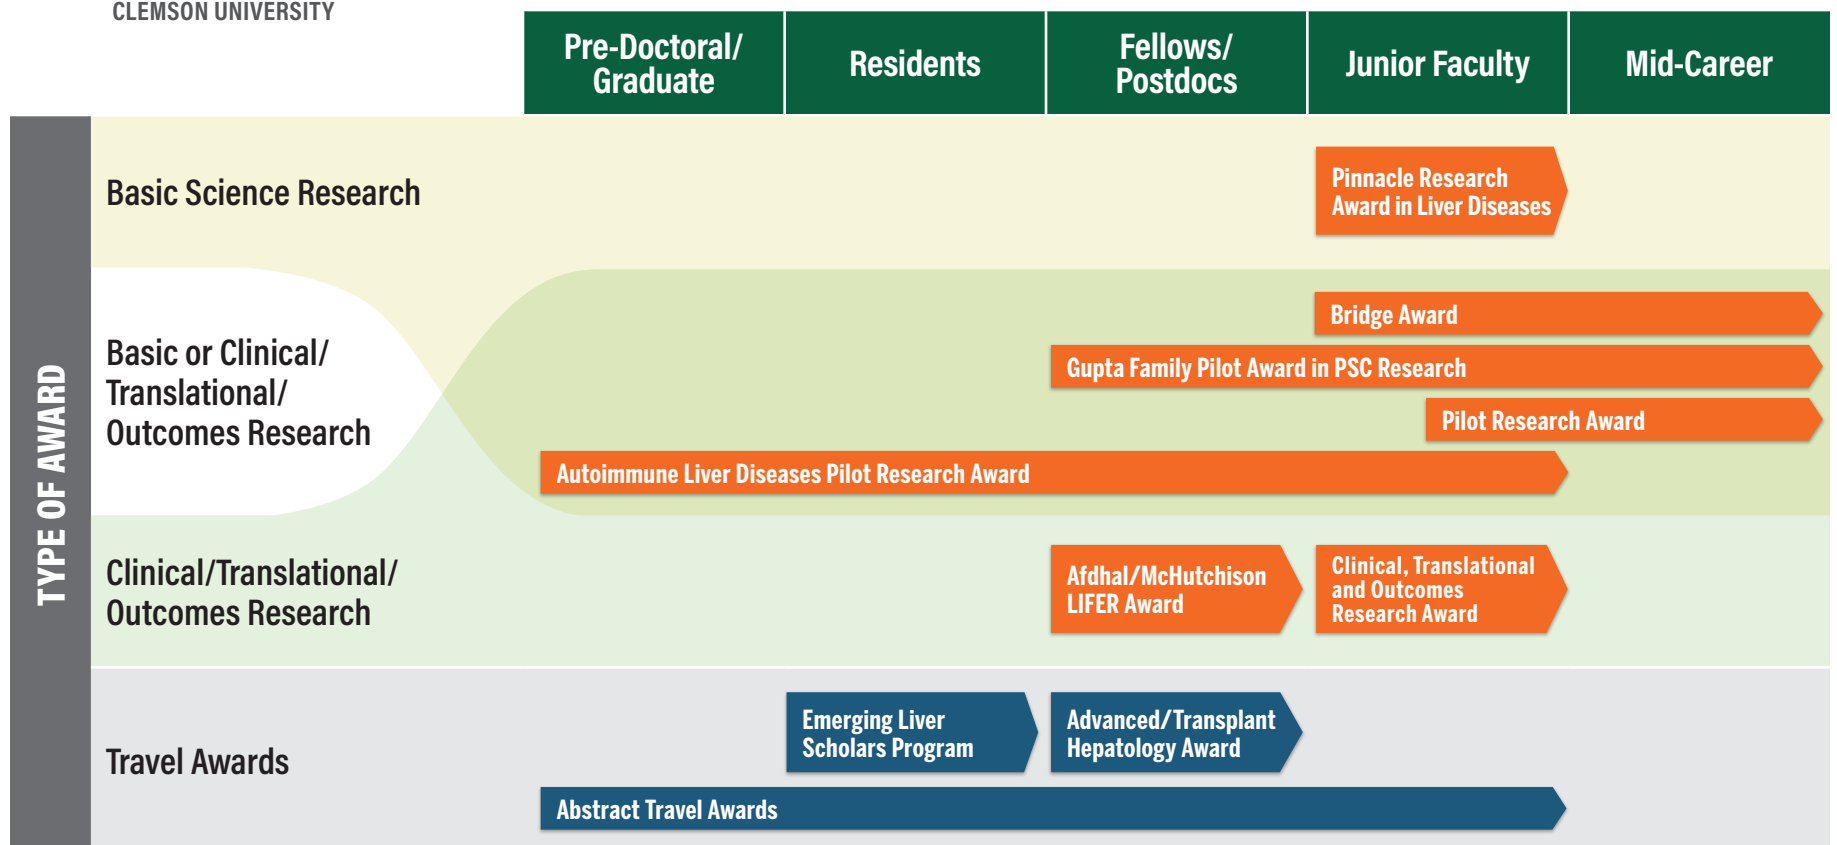

Renee Cottle, PhD
2021 Recipient of the
AASLD Foundation Pinnacle
Research Award
CLEMSON UNIVERSITY

AASLD Foundation 2022 Research and Career Development Awards

We invest in innovative hepatology research and in the people who study and treat liver disease.

AASLD Foundation funds awards for researchers at all levels, from medical school through mid-career.

Research Awards

Afdhal/McHutchison LIFER Award

$100,000/2 Years

Funding for postdoctoral/clinical research fellows pursuing clinical and/or translational research projects.

Autoimmune Liver Diseases Pilot Research Award

$20,000/1 Year

Supplementary funding for pilot projects in autoimmune liver diseases.

Bridge Award

$100,000/1 Year

Offered twice each awards year. Bridge funding for investigators revising NIH R (or other federal equivalent) applications.

Clinical, Translational and Outcomes Research Award

$200,000/2 Years

Funding for junior faculty performing clinical, translational or outcomes research projects. Applications in health disparities-related research are encouraged. One award per year is reserved for meritorious transplant-related research.

Gupta Family Pilot Award in PSC Research

$50,000/1 Year

Funding for highly innovative projects in Primary Sclerosing Cholangitis-related research with little or no preliminary data.

Pilot Research Award

$50,000/1 Year

Supports acquisition of key preliminary data to support a future larger study. Research focus must be clearly different from PI's existing research portfolio.

Pinnacle Research Award in Liver Diseases

$300,000/3 Years

Funding for junior faculty performing basic science research.

Career Development & Travel Awards

Advanced/Transplant Hepatology Award

$4,000/1 Year

Scientific meeting travel support and leadership opportunities for up-and-coming hepatology fellows.

Emerging Liver Scholars Program

For medical, surgical and pediatric residents who have potential for a career in academic medicine and who haven't yet determined their long-term career path.

Abstract Travel Awards (Amount varies)

For early career investigators to attend and present their research to a large, global audience at AASLD's annual meeting, The Liver Meeting®, and Digestive Disease Week®. Applications are due at the time of abstract submission.

Advanced Practice Providers

COMING SOON! New 2022 opportunities will be posted at www.aasldfoundation.org in December 2021.

Application Deadlines

OCTOBER 22, 2021

Bridge Award I

(funding begins February 1, 2022)

DECEMBER 2, 2021

Research Awards

(funding begins July 1, 2022)

JANUARY 18, 2022

Bridge Award II

(funding begins May 1, 2022)

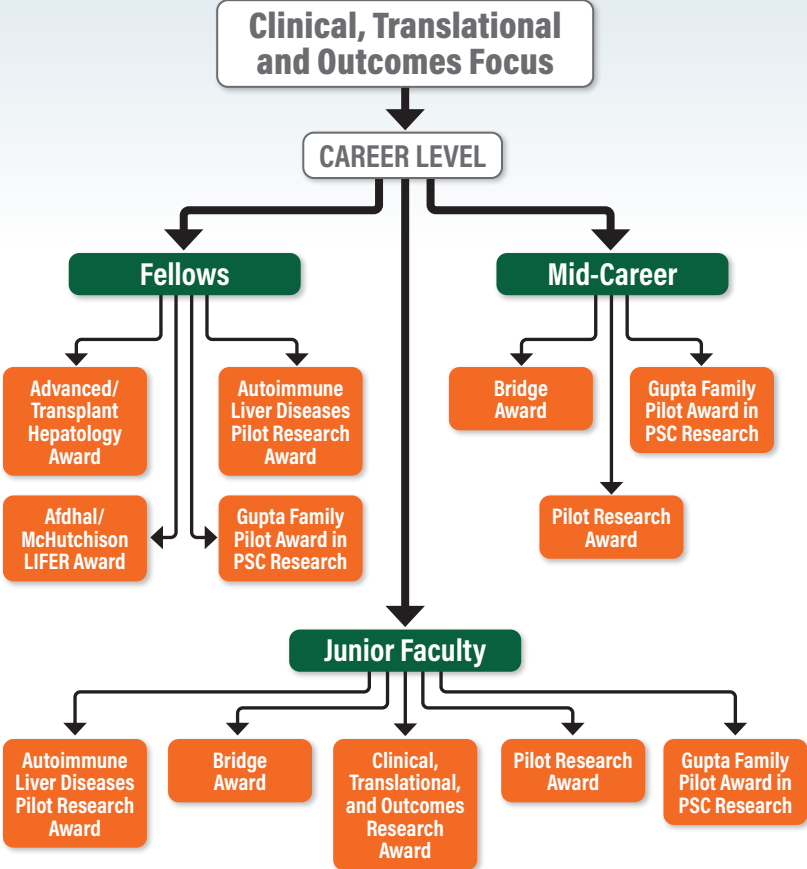

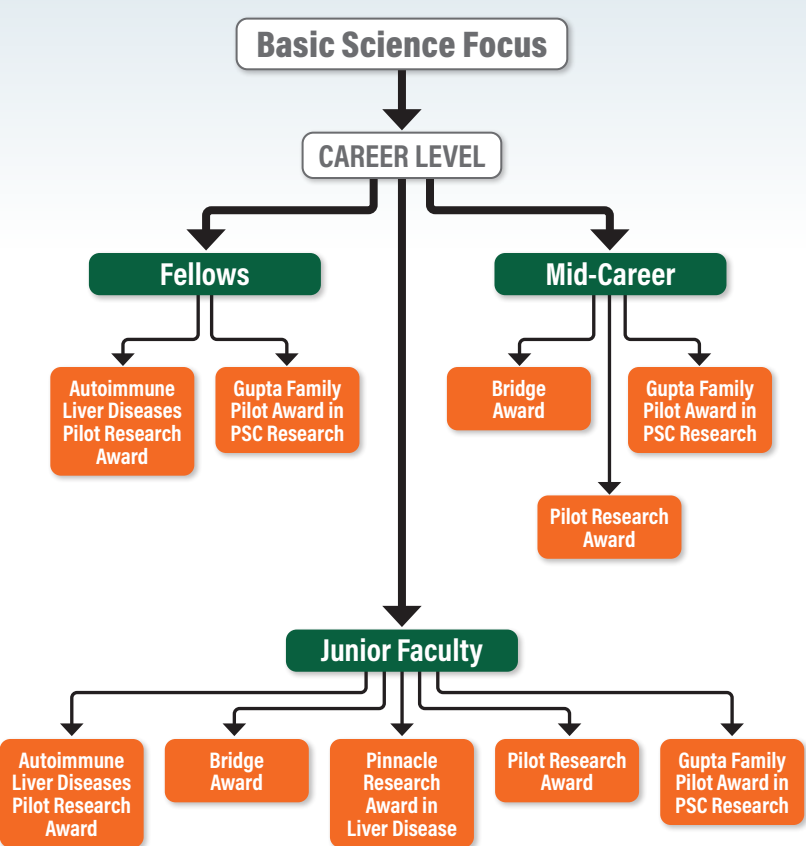

JANUARY 18, 2022

Advanced/Transplant Hepatology Award

(funding begins July 1, 2022)

Questions? Contact
awards@asld.org

Which award should I apply for?

AASLD Foundation, building upon the philanthropic legacy of AASLD, is the largest private supporter of liver disease research in the United States with more than $55 million awarded since 2000. This year, thanks to the generosity of our donors, we've provided over $2.8 million in research and career development awards.

We are committed to supporting you, your specialty and your patients by funding research, career development and abstract awards to build the pipeline of future hepatology leaders and research breakthroughs.

To achieve our goal of a world without liver disease, we need a consistent and stable source of funding. We will continue to be that stable source of funding with your help. Your gift, no matter what size, is an investment in innovative hepatology research and in the people who study and treat liver disease.

With your support, we will be able to continue:

- Funding new and innovative liver research
- Fostering increased access to adequately trained hepatology providers
- Supporting advanced hepatology training for front-line providers
- Encouraging the best and brightest researchers to pursue new treatments and cures

To make a tax-deductible donation, visit aasldfoundation.org/donate.

The AASLD Foundation is tax-exempt under §501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Contributions made to the AASLD Foundation are deductible charitable contributions to the extent permitted by §170 of the Internal Revenue Code. We recommend you consult your tax advisor for details.

If you are considering participating in The Liver Meeting Digital Experience™, donating to AASLD Foundation is easy when you register. Visit aasld.org/livermeeting to find out more.

“With the support of AASLD Foundation, I will be able to further explore the role of telehealth in modifying outcomes in advanced liver disease, and have the ability to present these important findings at national conferences. I will forever be appreciative of the AASLD Foundation donors for supporting the next generation of clinician-researchers.”

Jeremy Louissaint, MD

Recipient of the 2021 Advanced/Transplant Hepatology Award
COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

AASLD Foundation 2022 Research and Career Development Awards

“My AASLD Foundation Award has provided me the momentum needed both in terms of recognition from world leaders in hepatology and financial support to carry out experiments. This award will foster my transition from a junior investigator to an independent surgeon-scientist.”

Amar Nijagal, MD

2021 Recipient of the AASLD Foundation Clinical,
Translational, and Outcomes Research Award
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SAN FRANCISCO

KNOWLEDGE
PRACTICE
CURE®