

Participate in Special Patient Programming

TLM Sessions Designed for Liver Disease Patients and Advocates

Join Physicians, Scientists and Patients at The Liver Meeting®

The American Association for the Study of Liver Diseases (AASLD) is the leading organization of scientists and health care professionals committed to preventing and curing liver disease. We understand the importance and deeply value the voices of our patient and advocate community. This November, we're partnering with the patient community at The Liver Meeting Digital Experience to better inform our work to improve health outcomes.

The Liver Meeting (TLM) is the premier meeting on liver disease where cutting-edge science is shared among clinicians, associates, and scientists from around the world. This year The Liver Meeting Digital Experience offers patients and advocates the opportunity to learn about treatment and care through special sessions.

Learn more and register at: aasld.org/the-liver-meeting/patient-information

Connect With Patients, Advocates and Physicians at TLM

Join curated, digital sessions covering the most pressing topics in hepatology to keep you in the know:

- Annual Forum and Meet and Greet
- Keynote Presentation: How Physician-Patient Partnerships can Improve Liver Disease Care & Research
- Making an Impact Where You Are: Patient Voices as a Vehicle for Change
- Grit, Grace, Gratitude & Resilience: What You Wish Your Doctors Knew About You
- Cirrhosis: Improving Quality through Patient Empowerment
- HBV Cure – How close are we?
- Practice Guidelines Debrief for Patients
- Patient Debrief
- TLM Wrap-up and Feedback Open Discussion

Learn the latest on various disease states in this year's tailored tours of scientific abstracts on:

- HBV
- NAFLD
- Pediatric & Rare Liver Disease
- Autoimmune Liver Disease / PBC
- HCV
- COVID-19
- Public Health
- Alcohol-Associated Liver Disease

For more info and to register: aasld.org/the-liver-meeting/patient-information